I think you're on her death wish list
I really think she wants you dead.
If she had a death wish list
You'd be the one that she wants dead.

This time around you might go down
If you don't change your ways.
Life of regret and Karma lurks with sobering consequence

I think you're on her death wish list
I really think she wants you dead.
If she had a death wish list
You'd be the one that she wants dead.

Bad choices, lack of judgement or chalk it up to fate
Burning candles at both ends then trying to walk away
Goin' about things the hard way and saving face today
Better watch your back now, as the cycle fades away.

You're just wasting precious time
You'll be better off this way.
There's no such things as borrowed time
Pass that torch and walk away

I think you're on her death wish list
I really think she wants you dead.
If she had a death wish list
You'd be the one that she wants dead.
