

Voodoo Glow Skulls "The Morning Air Raid Sirens"

Visit "The Morning Air Raid Sirens" on MotoLyrics.com

Abusing power for senseless tragedy
Given the honor among the thieves
Family traditions and breeding tyranny
Veiled under the guise of the American dream.

[Chorus:]

I don't wanna wake up to morning air raid sirens
Don't wanna end up in World War 3
Don't wanna blow up to morning air raid sirens
Don't wanna be another faceless casualty

Who's got the power? Where's the morality?
Raised with scouts' honor, false prophet loyalty
They must love the smell of napalm in the morning
An eye for an eye only makes the world go blind.

Old men declaring war but it's the youth who fight
Dying like a dog for no good reason
Casting ballots for the lesser of two evils
The devil's laughing, preparing his acceptance speech

I don't feel safe living in this scary place
Only the marching dead will see the end of time.

[Chorus 2x]

Faceless leaders taking us down with them
Clearing their path for self-ambition
Blind lead the blind through desolate battlefield
Holding the hands of the idiots that have no clue

Who's gonna step up to take us to that better place?
What's it gonna take, for us to live as one?
Feels like we're sitting in the hull of someone's sinking ship
While we sit quietly, waiting for that day to come

I don't feel safe living in this scary place
Only the marching dead will see the end of time.

