All the strangers that we've seen tonight
Do they seem absurd?
You can never say you've seen the light
You're something special
A prophet to let for the world

You're some old girl
You're some old girl
Some old girl

You can maybe do it to yourself
Do you seem absurd?
You can never say you've seen the light
You're something special
A prophet to let for the world

You're some old girl

And if you stick around here
But you never seem to let it all go

And you can never say you really care

You're some old girl
You're some old girl
Some old girl

All the strangers that we've seen tonight
Did they seem absurd?
You can never say you've seen the light
You're something special
A prophet to let for for world

You're some old girl
You're some old girl
Some old girl

Some old girl
Some old girl
Some old girl
