Try to sleep a mile in this town stretch yourself across the bed
We can get the boys to come round We'll watch the day decay

I remember we were reckless Half asleep across the floor
I was young and we got restless Oh pretty girls make graves

Do you have the nerve to ask me What's the center of your world
I am drunk with love, set me free Promise you won't forget

Make believe that time is resting sorrow on a fading chair Please be waiting where I left you This summer's set to set

And I bet he had a habit
of pulling down the wall
and I bet he made a fine job
of bending all the rules

I go east to west in this place
my feet upon your steps screaming louder than a gunshot
I haven't finished with you yet

Lisa wants a revolution I can see you've had your fill yours is just a dirty version I'm gonna walk away

Can't you see that your big promise Fell apart in '73 Give yourself to something honest what makes a man today

Baby let me follow you down

Market to a lonely place Part of us belongs to this town Maybe I'm made to run

Baby I'm on my last chances On the run from time to time Sharp enough to feel so worthless
The season has come and gone

and I bet he had a habit
and I bet he made a fine job

my feet upon your steps
screaming louder than a gunshot
I haven't finished with you yet

of pulling down the wall
and I bet he made a fine job
of bending all the rules

screaming louder than a gunshot
I haven't finished with you yet
