Broken glass is the reason she won't forget my face
tonight.
After all, i did drag her through miles of shattered
glass and broken dreams.
I've been trapped inside her worst nightmare.
This hellish world, this firey place.
The lamb will eat the lion, the pawn will take the queen.
This nightmare is everlasting.
I am steadfast in her suffering, but she refuses to die.
No matter what i try, she won't die.
I am but after all just her pawn, and in this world the pawn will take the queen.
Long live the queen!
Look to the hills, the wolves are coming!
