My love,
Don't know where we're goin, don't know where we are
And lately I'm feeling that the feeling's gone for you
my love

We crawled
In every direction like a dead-end song And lately I'm feeling that it feels so wrong with you my love

You know we fell so hard
So hard it put a hole in my heart
When you fall in love again you'll think about your decision

When you drive your car outside the home that made you cry
You'll think about the day you left You'll think about the life you left behind

My love,
Offer surrender and you close your doors Lately I'm feeling what you're fighting for is someone else, my love

You made an art of theft 'cause this time I got nothing left (Uh-huh uh-huh)
Well I got nothing left

When you fall in love, you fall in love
