Throw me out in the cold, it's cold as my heart
Leave an empty street, tell me where to start
Don't ask a question, don't ask why.

Even if I start again, would it be the same,
The same as the road I walk today?
Tell me why, why, why...

Even if I make it I feel the pain.
(Talk to me, tell me I'm just fine, tell me the distance between this line)

This is the color of my soul in black and white, this is me
This is my heart, it's breaking down
I'm screaming "Someone tell me, please..."

...tell me why we wait, why we waste away?"
We're falling from the place we must stay
Take me home

Even if I make it I feel the pain
(Talk to me, tell me I'm just fine, tell me the distance between this line)
