Saving grace
And serving shots of novacaine to faces that have no names

(And a passion lost)

with memories in single frame Even if you return to me, you know we'll never be the same
'Cause here in Paradise no one ever really cares Im wondering where you are somewhere out there
I know you're human, but I dont even know you now I dont wanna love you now
And this playing dead with you is tearing me apart right now
same
'Cause here in Paradise no one ever really cares Im wondering where you are
somewhere out
In paradise no one ever really cares
Im wondering where you are
somewhere out there

(Return to return)
You spent your time here in Paradise
'Cause here in Paradise no one ever really cares
Im wondering where you are,
somewhere out
In paradise no one ever really cares
Im wondering where you are
somewhere out there
