

Panic Division, The "The Pieces That Mattered"

Visit "The Pieces That Mattered" on MotoLyrics.com

Here in the light there's a side of me I'm sure you'd love to hide
Every night is dragging on and on,
I'd trade it all for love, true love
Can you feel the hurt inside of me?

Let me go, give me something to overcome
If it isn't natural, then pick up the pieces that mattered in your life

Sometimes there's a side of you that makes me wanna run and hide
In your life, have you ever felt this fire in your heart and soul?
Beating every inch along the road in love, true love

If it's something that you can throw away then...

Let me go, give me something to overcome
And if it isn't natural, then pick up the pieces that mattered in your life

True love is something to overcome
You know, true love is something to overcome

Pick up the pieces that mattered in our lives (It's time to pick them up)

Visit Panic Division, The page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.