We'll know something Thursday
That's what the doctors said
We'll see what we're dealing with
We'll see how far it spread
Now just go home
And try to get some rest

I made it to the truck
Staring in the rear view
How you're supposed to take it
When you get that kind of news?
Just hold on
And wait for some damn test

Nothing I could say or do right then could change a thing
So I sat there alone, wonderin'

Is it already time?
Time to move along
Have I lived my life?
Have I written my last song?
Is this really real?
Have I reached the end of the line?
Is it already time?

And I got me thinkin'
How fast the years have flown
Sure I might've done
A few things different had I known
I might not get
A chance to make repairs

Just yesterday
I was still a kid
Now I'm over forty
But too young to be facin' this
But no one yet
Has told me life was fair

My faith can move a mountain and cast it in the sea

Jesus will I find that mustard seed?

Is it already time?
Time to move along
Have I lived my life?
Have I written my last song?
Is this really real?
Have I reached the end of the line?
Is it already time?

Cause there's so many things I need to do
And things I need to say
So many precious moments
That I've let get away
Dear Lord, give me resolution
If indeed I mean to say goodbye

Is this really real?
Have I reached the end of the line?
Is it already time?
Is it already time?
