Henry, tell your wife everything
Henry, put the bible under your hand/head
Henry, bite your lip if she says
Do you love me? Do you love me?
Henry, what's the chaplain to say?
When you're alley cat'n after the wake
And all the filthy johns can say
Oh let's be bad, Henry let's be bad, Henry

Wife bedside, she's in heaven right now
A voice from the ground
Come to me, come to me, come to me
Wife bedside, the good son says his goodbyes
A voice from the box

Wife bedside, she's in heaven right now
A voice from the ground
Wife bedside, the scarlet woman waits outside Sweetheart's wicked spine is a dastardly tool that maps out my sidelines
Wife bedside, do you want to meet your god?
Did you crush her hand?
As she kicked and she jerked and she cursed at the pain?
The girls you got inside? Tell me every time you tried
Tell me everything
Come to me, come to me, come to me
