

Wakey! Wakey! "Twenty two"

Visit "Twenty two" on MotoLyrics.com

I guess you know why they're all looking at you For me it started when I turned twenty two You count your blessings but you're still black and blue
You should go home before your money's all gone

You said it was over but its started again
Said it was easy but you still never win
And it was done before it started, and they're not your friends

You should go home before your money's all gone
You should go home before your money's all...

I hope you know that I dont like you this way I know you lost it but you still try escape and its sad but now its over theres nothing left to say you should go home before your monies are gone you should go home before your monies are...
