yesterday when I broken heart she came to my and she said, i can fell your heart is breaking then we get to know each other keep hopping it will be alright trying to leave the past time.

Walk that road together and you share your dreams with me every day and every night, i can't ascape from your face love can make the fire burning someday we will be together and you are everything to me is this what's called romance..? baby always here forever, light from heaven will be shining. When you need me, my love will never die
