There's a guide to take me home
Led me through the night
Stood against the storm
And taught me pride

Did they weigh you down?
Did they boil the salt?
Did they mess you up
In your fancy loft, baby?

There's a smile that broke my heart
That sparkles in your eyes
You're falling apart
Now you're living lies

Did they change the rules
Without telling you?
What a surprise
Who needs who now baby

Take a break and come down
Take a chance and start
Take a look in the mirror
Take the pill to wake up

Take a break and come down
Take a chance and start
Take a look in the mirror
Take the pill to wake up

Take a break and come down
Take a chance and start
Take a look in the mirror
Take the pill to wake up

Wake up

There's a spirit of our youth
Won't solves your thoughts
Used to care about truth
And fight against the odds

Did they make you trade
The dreams of old
Did they tell you
It was cool to be cold baby?

There's a light that you once shown
Clouded you la don
Everything is lone
And everybody is gone

Was life rough on you
Did it fit no more
As we fibbin' you to my dorm
Now baby

Take a break and come down
Take a chance and start

Take a break and come down

If you need someone
To [Incomprehensible] night
You can count on me
Everything will be, alright

Alright

If you need someone
You can count on me
