Beneath the streets, in the cars, on the trains,

or in the underground

I'll be waiting

You can spare a dime or you're gonna be mine and

We're going dancing tonight

In the tunnels underground the subway rats run all around,

and hungry,

running all around and hungry

So come and hide, step inside we're going on a midnight ride

On the subway underground it gets a little rough,

this ain't

No tunnel of love

Hurricanes running through my veins I know that You're lost and alone

And I feel no pain

In my sea of drains

in my my my underwater world

Welcome to the ocean

Welcome to the sea

Welcome to the jungle

Deep inside of me

Sink or swim, you dive right in and you Know this ain't no place to mess around in

In my swamp underground the quicksand slowly

Sucks you down

Down here I call teh shots, like it or not,

What you got I'm getting

You have to come down to my slum

Well Welcome Chum,

now sit down and listen

Welcome to the ocean

Welcome to the sea

Welcome to the jungle

Deep inside of me

I lay you wide open

For all teh world to see
