Your mechanical eyes show how empty you are inside night after night you walk through the door searching hoping, rotting and dying what about this life keeps you going Are you willing to kill this One after another you line up to be seen hollow, wide eyed, drama queen Are you willing to kill this cheap creep show

If you are looking for the time of your life you've got it searching, hoping and slowly rotting if you are looking for the time you've got it all dolled up your selling and buying lies you buy their lies let's kill this cheap creep show To all boys and girls with empty mouth and empty hands what would you give to have it all to all the boys and girls what would you give to have it all you've got look your best dress to impress if you're going to sell us the perfect
