[Music Hatakka-Waltari]

My stolen moments try to reach me here on my ice
You know it's slippery there a psycho exciting connection Waves from your eyes You're blowing it onwards and I realize the whole size of my logical brain a psycho connection with something that comes from outside

[Chorus:]

Oh, I make believe connection in the dark could release
Oh, I'd like to feel
The echo of your distant breeze

I feel you dancing, while my hearthbeat's starting to grow now I see something in there the distance
The future in front of me coming here
As a feature instead My hands are shaking and my whole body's telling:
beavare of the darkness
you are nobody now
the unknow surround me, the waves are filling me in... now I'm the Power of Life

[Chorus:]

Oh, I make believe
connection in the dark could release Oh, I'd like to feel some power coming through your leaves
Oh, I make believe
The echo of your distant breeze
Oh, I'd like to feel...
but there's ice on my mind It's frozen and it's hard to see it!

Gotta pile it up, gotta pile it up

All the things in my head I fight the best I can and I realize The whole size of your killing breath
Now I have to know, now I have to care it's only me and you
We share this pain and we face ourself in the dark Thoight there is ice on the road (let's go!)

[Chorus:]

Oh, I make belive
connection in the dark could release
Oh, I'd like to feel
The echo of your distant breeze
Oh, I make belive
Oh, but sometimes I feel that we never ever wanna, we never ever dare to see it!
