Strange love affair, wouldn't you say baby
We pretend we don't care and start talking crazy
I say something you say something and it gets so confused
Maybe you think you're being used well I know I do too
Let's try it again to get it right again
This is too good to let go why don't you use me some more

Come on give it to me give me your love
I'll give you mine
We've had a rare strange love affair

I don't want to fight why waste precious time
I want to touch you tonight I want you to be mine
I need something you need something that you can call your own
I don't want to tie you down I just want to take you home
Just one more time again let's get it right again
This is too good to let go I want to use you some more Come on bring it to me bring me your love
I'll bring you mine
We've had a rare strange love affair

Come on give it to me give me your love
I'll give you mine
We've had a rare, we've had a rare
Nothing quite like it
A strange love affair
