UNSETTLED Lyrics by Paul Dunnett 2005

Sometimes I've been acting so phoney
Times go by, I know I've been lonley
I've been pushed aside, by society
I'm wondering why, but I can't see
I want to fly, up above the trees
I can't but I've tried, rescue me
My life would be a fairytale if you could only
Fly me up high where I can see

I feel like I've, been acting so phoney
Times go by (Lord knows that I've been lonley)
I've been pushed aside (the outcast of society)
I'm wondering why, (I'm a different variety)
I want to fly (Out of this ceremony)
I can't but I've tried (I'm tired of apologies)
My life would be a fairytale (If I could only read)
Fly me up high (Don't drop me this could get messy)

I'm unsettled in a way most can't describe,
but you wouldn't believe unless you've seen through my eyes
I hide in lies and deception too afraid to be myself
It's my only protection (rather be anyone else)

Now I'm settled by the way, So I now can describe
All the things that I'm feeling that keeps me alive
All the demons in the shadows have come into the light
It's my turn to shine now, I've learnt how to fight
