Entity

There comes a point in time When a man must decide what he has to do in order to be happy
It is to be expected that fear only occurs when you're doing the one thing you truly do not want to do Even though you wanted it all your life
No one can do it but yourself You must be determined to keep going and let the spirits take you further on To a brighter side
Do not allow things to keep you down Because you will feel hurt and bad for what is truly in your heart
Once you overcome this
You can bring it to the fullest entity
