How important can it be that I'd tasted other lips?
That was long before you came to me with a magic of your kiss
So the story got around of an old romance and me
But it happened, oh, so long ago, how important can it be?

Mine was young and the foolish heart seeking love at every turn
I have grown so much wiser now, even foolish heart
can learn
Let the past just fade away, why get lost in yesterday?
The important thing is here and now and our love is

Mine was young and the foolish heart seeking love at
every turn
I have grown so much wiser now, even foolish heart
can learn
Let the past just fade away, why get lost in yesterday?
The important thing is here and now and our love is
