(Harlan Howard)

I gave up all my friends, just for you
When you were busy, I stayed in just for you
Paid no mind to mom and dad
When they said you'll turn out bad
I gave up everything I have, just for you.

I saved every single dance, just for you
Never gave no one else a glance, just for you
I gave my all so lovingly and all that you gave me
Was a broken heart that's crying, just for you.

I gave my lips, I gave my pride
And now there's nothing, nothing left inside
I gave so much with no return
I guess my heart will never learn
'Cause I still wait and I still yearn, just for you...
