Gettin' up was the first mistake I made today
Maybe if I'd stayed in bed I wouldn't hurt this way For now I'll have to face the world admit that we're all through
And begin my first day without you [guitar]
Goin' out was the next mistake I made today
I tried to find a place to hide to pass a time away
I knew I couldn't stand to see someone we once knew
All alone my first day without you [piano - steel]
Goin' home was the last mistake I made today He's gone and now you're all alone the silence seems to say
A million lonely nights to all I can look forward to
As I end my first day without you as I end my first day without you
