Stand back now take a good look tell me do you like what you see I'm gettin' better even close friends know the change in me
It didn't take long cause I learned fast tell me is this the way you want me to be It's too late to turn back you must accept me for you created me Where you go I tag along I followed you from right to wrong
You wanted me to live your life and you only live at night
Creator look me over tell me am I more than you expect me to be
You made me over you must accept me for you created
me
me
