The hardest thing in the world

Holland [?] it don't please

I never wanted to leave

Searching for a perfect day

It never happens that way - ahey hey hey

I'm sick and tired and so obscene

Will heaven help me be clean?

Searching for a perfect day

It never happens that way - ahey hey hey

Cut away, I know your world wants you around [?]

You never heard a word I said

It's very simple to me

That if you knew you wouldn't say

It never happens that way - ahey hey hey

And the impression I get

As the story unfurls:

That you're the hardest thing in the world

Cut away, I know your world wants you around

What you feel might not be

It seems softer [?] to me

I cannot climb to touch your spire

I'm getting higher and higher

Cut away, I know your world wants you around

The hardest thing in the world
