"Nevermore"

I dream a darker seeking ocean shore
The moon has drawn me to its soil
I glimpse, the shadow of a mystery
But floats beyond my fingers as I cry
And the stars shine on the doom
When I see you in the moon light
Your voice is silence in my memories
Your secrets never were revealed
I see your footprints in the sand, touch them softly with my hand
Oh, we've both been here before, nevermore
Your words are written in the sand
I sweep them softy with my hand
Though we've said these words before, nevermore
Nevermore, nevermore, nevermore, nevermore
