Dear Annie I'm sorry it's been a long long time

There's so much on my mind

I want to call you I'm dropping you this line

Lieu of walls I can't climb

Thought I'd let you know since I let you go

I've come to rue the day

A silly card I guess but I must confess

There's so much more to say

Longer letter later

I blew it I know it and all I have to show

Is this heartache I feel

I may be crazy

But everything I know tells me try and appeal

Are you having fun have you found someone

To shed new light on you

Maybe pen and ink will make you stop and think

Of all that we've been thru

Longer letter later

If only you could see this brand new me

I know you'd change your plan

Here's the postscript now meant to show you how

I'm a different man

Longer letter later Longer letter later
