I've been a father to you all in spite of what you heard and for the most part i've been a perfect stranger too in spite of what you've heard you made me painfully aware what you think of me
and for the most part
im starting to believe its true i put my faith in you

Thats why im singing singing Sorry songs i sing to amuse myself
I need to hear your voice carry on my way

I've been a lover to the ones you never realized and for the most part i've been a liar all along
a centimeter of a man i measure up to be
and for the most part i might be lonely all along if im lying in the bed i've made lying in the bed i've made

i need to hear your voice carry on so im singing singing Sorry songs i sing to amuse myself
i know its not too late your making a mistake

So im singing singing sorry songs I sing to amuse myself
i need to hear your voice carry on my way
