Oh the crystal chandeliers light up the paintings on your wall
The marble statuettes are standing stately in the hall
But will the timely crowd that has you laughing loud help you dry your tears
When the new wears off of your crystal chandeliers

I never did fit in too well with the folks you knew And it's plain to see that the likes of me didn't fit with you
So you traded me for the gaiety of the well to do
And then turned away from the love I offered you Oh the crystal chandeliers...

I see your picture in the papers most every day And I know that you're the chosen girl of the social world so the stories say But you know honey a paper smile only lasts for a while and then it fades away
And the love we knew will come home to you some day
Oh the crystal chandeliers...
When the new wears off of your crystal chandeliers
