Ja Rule]

Daddy's little baby
Must learn this world is shady
The color of your skin don't make you less of a lady Degrade yourself never Cause I'm teaching you better
Life aint all about cheddar diamonds and leather
Understand you a black sister in this white mans world
Don't let it get ya down girl
It's essential that you grow amongst your group
So you don't grow too fast and be doing Lord knows who
Cause daddy loves you, dont let nobody tell you different
What I do for a living is a talent I'm giving
And I'm a raise you too black, too strong, beautiful
Tell the truth, let you know what women go through Lies and deceit, the nigga you love he gonna cheat
So be careful in the heat, baby girl, with cold feet
Keep your head steady, baby, this world aint ready
Make me proud your daddy's little baby

[Ronald Isley]

I'll always come back to you
I'll always come back to you
I'll always come back to you
Your my baby, now and ever

[JA Rule]

Yo, JA's imagery is somewhat like God and his chemistry
Blas-phe-my, I'll take my baby girl proudly Put her over my knee and let her know this world is yours
Men and dogs take it from daddy and hold off
Head high lady, love is about lies and deception
Will always be seen through the eyes and my demise dont cry, just
Hold on, stay head strong and live to learn that life goes on
The day you was born God answered my cry for help

I look at you a female replica of myself
I was conceived 229 you 922
God was the science in this sign you threw
I want to know just so I can spread the jewel through my youth
So she dont have to come up like I did running loose
Keep your head steady, baby, this world aint ready
Make me proud your daddy's little baby

[Ronald Isley]

I'll always come back to you
I'll always come back to you
I'll always come back to you
Your my baby, now and ever

[JA Rule]

When I look in your eyes I see stars
It's me and you against the world baby to the stales
And anything you want, you can get, daddy's getting it done
You the reason why I keep the hundreds under the ones
And go through rain, sleet, and snow and kiss the sun
Though my travels through the storms has just begun
I swear to God when my sister died, I was only 5
Didn't even cry, couldn't know the value of a life
Know I realize why Brittany so rare to me
She came at the time when nobody cared for me
This worlds tough, I'm a guide you through it carefully
Learn the game and remember nothing in life's free
My little lady, cant quite understand me know
But baby, in time I'll break it down
Keep your head steady, baby, this world aint ready
Make me proud your daddy's little baby

[Ronald Isley]

I'll always come back to you
I'll always come back to you
I'll always come back to you
Your my baby, now and ever
And you know I love you girl
Oh, yeah
And I'll always be there for you girl
You know, baby, your my baby now and ever
And I'll always, Ohh, you know you know
Ladadadalalala, yeah
Your my baby, now and ever
And you know, you know baby
Know, you see I love you baby
Your my little baby girl, yeah
Your my baby, now and ever

And I know, you know, you know
You know, always, alll-ways
Your my baby, now and ever
And I know.
