He who believes in Ja Shall not be condemned

But he that believeth not Is condemned already

Only because He has not believed In the man

And the only begotten son

My Lord

Chorus (2X): For he so feared the word

He left his only begotten son

To shed his blood

Show that pain is love

But I wont cry

Cause I live to die

Wit my mind on my money

And my guns in the sky

Yeah, Why would you leave somethin you love here to die

In the cold And it grows

Like a concrete rose

Beautiful ain't I

Till I withered and died

On the same streets you left me

And, screamin Lord let me in

I don't know where to begin
Since I lost yo love
But then again your love
Was strictly for the drugs
I don't know whether to hug
Or to fill you with slugs
Fuckin them hoes Instead of claiming whats rightfully yours
Holdin my heart from all the pain you caused
With no direction you left your first born lost
Give or take a few
Cause my hate for you
Grew, over the years Through blood, sweat and tears
I wanted to be just like you
My father figure now I want to fight you
You bitch nigga You left me alone
And parts of me never out grown
The fact that left home
When moms was so strong
Don't let them get you fed
This world is yours she said
Now nothin that stoppin me but two to the head
In life theres more to come
When its all said and done
You lost one love
Your only begotten son

Chorus (2X)

But what a nigga live for

And damn ready to die young

I'm the shadow behind the gun

Look st what I've become

The fear of many niggas

The floss of most bitches

The love that runs deepest In the hearts of street
niggas

Raised in the ghetto

By the ghetto

Was taught young to pop the medal

That's how shit get settled

Learn to cook up the coke

Never leave home without toast

Learn to fly my bitches with birds not coats

Never trust ya

From a tight blood to hustla

I was trained as a youngsta

To cock back and slug ya

Love me or hate me

Ya only son

Let me live or kill me

The chosen one

Ja, under the gun gotta kill 'em for show

If you want it you gonna get more then you askin for

Lifes got more to come

But when its all said and done

You lost one love

Your only begotten son

Chorus (2X)

I wanted to be forever yours

Lookin now but nothin wrong

Two souls

Lookin to meet at the cross roads

I burn the hydro

Lay back with my eyes closed

In deep thought like Brittany is somethin I'd die for

Well how the fuck do you sleep at night

Knowin you wrong the only thing you ever did right

Despite the loss I stretch the length of a short

Now I got a new father whose name is New York

Runnin wild in the streets In heat we don't talk

Cause when its cold you basically live life in the dark

When light would shine from the heavens

And bless one Ja Rule loved

Your only begotten son

Chorus (3X)
