I don't want to be no rude boy
I just want to be a good boy
I don't want to be no rude boy
I just want to be a good boy

Why don't you change your way, rude boy
Try to be a good boy
Because if you don't change your way
You'll find your mistake some coming day
And when you grow to be a man
You don't spend your days in the can
And when you walk down the street
People would respect the man they meet

Young man you're inclined to be rough
Kindly leave out that rude boy stuff
Because one day you'll realize
Your rude ways are so unwise
It's not good to be a rude boy
But it's good to be a good boy
