Since I've been without you I've missed your tender kiss These days since you had left me are filled with loneliness You've had your faults about you with all your wanderin' ways
But darling I'll forgive you if you'll come home today Cause I keep dreaming loving and still caring just reaching for the love I live without Yes I keep dreaming loving and still caring cause after all that's what life's all about [steel]
I've been a sittin' waitin' dreamin' of the day you'll return
To hear your voice beside me would satisfy my yearn If only you'd come running and we could start again
We'd have our love eternal until the very end Cause I keep dreaming...
Yes after all that's what life's all about
