If you want to feel the stars
If you want to touch the sky
There is always that one smile
That will take you for a ride

When you're feeling sad inside
When you're trying to hold on
Take a deep breath, let yourself go
And feel the love so strong

And feel the magic, magic
For me and you shining all way through
Magic's always here for you
The magic, magic
For me and you, shining all way through,
Magic's always here for me and you.

If you want to feel the stars
If you want to touch the sky
There is always that one smile
That will take you for a ride

When you're feeling sad inside
When you're trying to hold on
Take a deep breath, let yourself go
And feel the love so strong

And feel the magic, magic
For me and you shining all way through
Magic's always here for you
The magic, magic
For me and you, shining all way through,
Magic's always here for me and you.

Every step you make
And every breath you take

You'll feel the magic in your blood
You'll feel the magic in your heart.

For me and you shining all way through
Magic's always here for you

The magic, magic

For me and you, shining all way through,
Magic's always here for you.

The magic, magic

For me and you shining all way through
Magic's always here for me and you.

The magic, magic

For me and you shining all way through
Magic's always here for me and you.

Magic's always here for me and...
