Tears are falling from someone's eyes
And hearts are breaking, yeah somewhere tonight
So many people are hurting and can't see past their pain
But there's still healing in Jesus name

Tears are falling, yeah as someone cry
And hearts are breaking somewhere tonight
So alone, seems like no one cares
But this promise was made to you
Jesus will always be there

So hold on to Jesus with all your might
And you, you will find hope in Him, somewhere tonight

Tears are falling from someone's eyes
Hearts are breaking, yeah somewhere tonight
Life is a vapor, it's here and then it's gone
But our hope rest in this truth, this world is not our home

So hold on to Jesus with all your might
And you, you will find hope in Him, somewhere tonight
Somewhere, hold on, somewhere

Tears are being wiped away from someone's eyes
And hearts are being mended somewhere tonight
