I saw some old friends the other day
And all they could talk about was how I've changed
They thought I'd be the last one to ever settle down They can't believe I'm flyin' so high with both feet on the ground

And you make me wanna be a better man
And you make me wanna do the best I can
I feel a little stronger every time you hold my hand
You make me wanna be a better man

Now there was a time when I ran wild as a Texas wind
Never slowin' down enough to ever let that party end Whoa then your love surrounded me like a shelter from the storm
Whoa baby you believed in me like no one has before

And you make me wanna be a better man
And you make me wanna do the best I can
I feel a little stronger every time you hold my hand
You make me wanna be a better man

Well you know sometimes I stumble
Yeah, everybody does
But you keep me reaching for the man I can be
And not the man I was, no

I feel a little stronger every time you hold my hand
You make me wanna be a better man, oh baby
You make me wanna be a better man
