she sure looks good in the picture books makes me stop and take second looks she had lots white sand on a big white beach everything right within my reach i wanna go where the grass is green but i guess ill have to take myself with me and im not sure thats who i wanna see cradle and tombstone

theres not much in between except for crosses and crossroads and stories i will leave behind us wise men ask why
were lucky just believe

i didnt know everything could be such a mess i wish there was a place called no regrets wherei could just sit and put up my feet and come along and bearin me say goodnights with this frustration live my life like a long vaacation and im not sure thats who i wanna be

cradle and tombstone
except for crosses n crossroads
wise men ask why

she says she digs me for who i am she doesnt need to understand this journey ive been on maybe shes the one
maybe shes the one

wise men ask why

yea were lucky just believe i believe ohhh i believe
