

Rutherford Mike

"Maxine"

Visit "Maxine" on MotoLyrics.com

Maxine, well have you been?

Maxine, long time no see

Maxine, such a surprise

Maxine, just look out tonight

I hear you been livin' in Paris

Under an assumed fame

They say that you've been married

If not in passion at least in name

Damn you, girl, it still hurts me

No man was ever safe, yeah

Taming the shrew comes easy

If any man knew your taste, Maxine

Maxine, how times have changed

Maxine, well nothing's the same

Maxine, everything's gone

Maxine, your home ain't your own

You suit those European clothes

In a foreign sort of way

You still wear that air of distinction

In your fatefully stunning way

Damn you, girl, it still hurts me

And the years just made it worse
In fact our love is divided
Between the blessed and the cursed, Maxine
Maxine, don't bring back the past
Maxine, life is too fast
Maxine, oh everything's changed
Maxine, nothing's the same
Maxine, Maxine
I do remember, do you remember
I still remember, do you remember
I still remember, do you still -
Maxine [Repeat and fade with ad lib

Visit Rutherford Mike page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.