"Come Out Of The Shade"

Was it love or just something I reminded me of Something that felt a lot like but wasn't love

Just friends
Friends then until the end
You know I still pretend
Just friends

Take a step and come out of the shade
I can tell you're no longer afraid
I'm helpless without your warming smile

Take a step and come out in the sun
I can tell it's already begun
I'm helpless without your warming smile

Was it love
I think it was but I'm far from sure
I'd never felt that way before
Was it love

Just friends
Am I a fool to be asking for
A fool to wish that we could be more than friends

Take a step and come out of the shade
I can tell you're no longer afraid
I'm helpless without your warming smile

Take a step and come out here in the sun
I can tell it's already begun
I'm helpless without you
Helpless without you
Helpless without your warming smile
Your warming smile
