I know what I said
I know how I used to be and
I know I was hungry then
But that was just the kid in me
I had all the flavors
That one girl could need
But they started canceling each other out
Just my greed
(Now I'm) sugarless
Don't wanna be
I crave the taste
I need the sweet
I'm sugarless
Don't have to be
'Cause I'm gonna find
Someone who's gonna
Fill me deep
I'm learning a lesson
That it's never too late
To slow down
Take a look around
And appreciate the taste
Much more satisfying
Much more gratifying
No more joyriding
I'm trying I'm trying I'm trying repeat chorus
What has happened to the touch
Guess I'm finally growing up
Nothing's instant in this place
But the smile stays on my face
