I rhyme of time when all we knew was love
With bread and wine, friends by your side
And time beneath your glove

You dream of time like that to always stay
But no soon days would ever stay
And tunes will always change

But you're always here
And your touch is near
And your sound, so sound
You're always clear, so clear
Your voice is clear
Your sound, so sound

Now feel the times when all we knew was pain
Where loved ones hearts were locked by scars
And soon their name has changed

But these are times when soon you'll see what came
In all this pain there's wholeness found
In one who stays the same

And he's always here
And his touch is near
And he's sound, so sound
He's always clear, so clear
And his voice is clear
And he's sound, so sound

Oh, oh, oh

And all the pain
Such lessons in such pain
Such hope in so much pain
How can I call this pain?

You're always here
And your touch is near
And your sound, so sound
You're always clear, so clear
And your voice is clear

And your sound, so sound

Oh, oh, oh

[Incomprehensible]
