"Pure and Easy by The Who"

Pure and Easy

by The Who

There once was a note, pure and easy

Playing so free, like a breathe rippling by

The note is eternal, I hear it, it sees me

Forever we blend as forever we die

I listened and I heard, music in a word

And words when you played your guitar

The noise that I was hearing was a million people cheering

And a child flew past me, riding in a star

As people assemble, civilization

Is trying to find a new way to die

But killing is really, merely scene changer

All men are bored, with other men's lives

I listened and I heard, music in a word

And words when you played your guitar

And a child flew past me, riding on a star

We all know success, when we all find our own dreams

And our love is enough to knock down any walls

And the future's been seen, as men try to realize

The simple secret of the note in us all in us all

(guitar break)

I listened and I heard, music in a word

And words when you played your guitar

And a child flew past me, riding in a star

The day is the day, the sound covers mountains blowing, blowing each man into wake destroying its self in the end with vibrations there's nothing on earth it's challenge can take excepting one note

Excepting one note, pure and easy

Playing so free, like a breathe rippling by excepting one note, excepting one note

There once was a note,...listen

There once was a note,...listen
