

Watchtower

"Coming In To Harbour"

Visit "Coming In To Harbour" on MotoLyrics.com

Well I dreamed I saw you sailing in upon a sleek white schooner
you were slipping over shallow water You were coming into harbour, you were coming into harbour
with the wind in all your sails

You were carrying a cargo that was richer than riches more gold than gold and much more real than real New born babe in your arms and his cool blue eyes gazed up yes his cool eyes gazed upon a fresh world, one yet to be made

I was standing on the shoreline looking out over the sea
and I saw your white sail appearing on the horizon I was standing on the shoreline just looking out over the sea
and I saw your white sail appearing on the horizon
You were coming into harbour, you were coming into
harbour
in the bright light, the bright light, longer than the 20th century

Visit Watchtower page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.