Space is always getting bigger time just keeps moving on Take your finger off the trigger you ain't gonna shoot that gun

Roads are always leading somewhere dreams are always being dreamed That black cloud on the horizon it's not as big as it seems

No, you may believe it or not, but hear what I say this old boat of ours is bound for better days

Fools will always have an answer cheats will always tell a lie They don't have to take us over just let them pass you by Luck is always being lucky fate is always being fate There's really no need to hurry you aint gonna be late

this old boat of ours is bound for better days

Age is always getting older youth is always being born Come on climb in here beside me and keep your lover warm
