"That's Not Enough"

You give me everything you give me your best You take two steps forward and put me to the test You talk to your mother who give you good advice You send me cards with your best wishes and I'm sure that's very nice but

That's not enough
oh no, that's not enough You're not enough and that's not enough for me

I don't want to be cruel
I wouldn't want to be unkind
But how do I tell you that when you speak to me you just waste your time I'll never carry someone who doesn't care You give me everything you think you can but your heart isn't really there

And that's not enough
oh no, that's not enough
not enough for me
