Wake up and talk to me
it's a long time since last night I know we said things, the saddest things and I'm not sure it was wise when the morning's sad
you don't look back and you sure don't look ahead
the morning sad
you know, the morning sad
the morning sad
never had it so bad
never had it so bad
I'm writing desperate songs while you're fast asleep inside I could try to sing (I could try to bide my time to wake up) until it rings
but my voice comes out uptight
when the morning's sad
you don't relax
you'll be ??? your mind

the morning sad
never had it so bad
never had it so bad
I tried a little
I tried a lot
I'm not a window and you've seen through everything I've got oh, I don't think that I'll be safe until everyone's awake everybody, everybody, everybody, yeah... so wake up and talk to me such a long time since last night I know we said things, the maddest things and I'm not sure who was right
you won't attack
cause you're much too weak to bite
the morning sad
never had it so bad
never had it so bad

no...

yeah, yeah, yeah...
