there are no set rules to follow just a big black gaping hollow that we fall into and hope that it means love and the beasts snapping at your feet keep barking taht you're incomplete ignore them, but heed the beasts above so when you see me coming you better whistle or start humming 'cause otherwise i'll tell you now that i'll just walk right by because lover when i drink im dozy but i fancy getting cozy and i heard a rumour that i might have caught your eye so come on darling, break my heart. mess me about and shag all my friends cause we cant waste what we never even start and its best to go out with a bang.
