Homebound Henry's got a tumor in his head He wakes up sweating every morning after dreaming he was dead
He used to think that life was boring, but now that's not the case
He turns to his wife in the evening
He says "Honey I'm afraid I'm gonna lose this race"

Sweet River roll
All over me
Sweet River roll, hey
All over me

Soaking wet Juliet, she lives in a well full of tears Her husband left her for some bimbo after twenty-two years
Now she's got to start all over, but she's just so terrified
She thinks it woulda been so much easier if he woulda just died

Sweet River roll
All over me
Sweet River roll, hey
All over me

Now I'm lookin' out my car window sittin' in the pouring rain Although your house is fifteen miles away, I can still feel your pain
Now I've thought and prayed and worked it Through about a hundred times or more How your soul just cries to everyone to help you get up off the floor

Right now it's morning, you're probably sleepin'
I bet you're totally unaware Of the flood of kisses you hold back by the way that you despair
It ain't me I'm talking about here, or anybody else you can touch
That's all I want to say right now, I don't want to say too much

Except Sweet Jesus roll
Roll all over me
Sweet Jesus roll, hey
All over me

Sweet Jesus, oh you has to roll, hey
You gotta roll all over me
Sweet Jesus, oh You has to roll, hey
And use to set me free Ahh just set me free, hey
