She's a liar
It comes to this
All we had till now is gone
I'm the other piece to this
Every time I feel this inside
I don't wanna be the one who . . .

Caught you, so take cover
Never saw it coming so you put me on again
Had you and no other
The game, the lie is getting old

She starts to feel it on her own
She makes the city seem like home
All you had from me is gone
And I give and I give but you hope in return
Never thought I'd be the one to burn
Every time I feel this inside
I don't wanna be the one who . . .

Caught you, so take cover
Never saw it coming so you put me on again
Had you and no other
The game, the lie is getting old
