You're nothing new to me
And all the things you say
Have been traced out for you
You're nothing new to me

I've seen your kind before
Playing holy war
I heard them preach their laws
They're not around no more

You fail to impress me
Two years from now where will you be?
You're nothing new to me
You're nothing new to me

You take yourself so serious
What makes you so sure?
What makes you so sure?

You're nothing new to me
And you seem to believe
Your straight morality
You're nothing new to me

Your values are not real
Your superiority does not impress me

You fail to impress me
Two years from now where will you be?
You're nothing new to me
You're nothing new to me

You take yourself so serious
I can see, I can see through your mask
You're nothing new, you're nothing, nothing new
(I can see through your mask)
You're nothing new, you're nothing
(I can see through your mask)

I can see through your mask
You're nothing new, you're nothing
(I can see through your mask)

I can see through your mask

This is your own house
Don't you try to burn it down
Don't you burn it down

You fail to impress me
Two years from now where will you be?
You're nothing new to me
You're nothing new to me

You take yourself so serious
I can see through your mask
You're nothing new, you're nothing, nothing new
(I can see through your mask)

You're nothing new, you're nothing
(I can see through your mask)
I can see through your mask

You're nothing new, you're nothing, nothing new
(I can see through your mask)
You're nothing new, you're nothing
(I can see through your mask)

I can see through your mask
You're nothing new, you're nothing
(I can see through your mask)
